Artist Statement

Alberto Fusco is a London-based Italian artist; born in Naples, he moved to London in 1994 to further his art studies and career. Firstly, he enrolled on a Foundation course in Fine Art and subsequently, a BA in Art for the Community, which he successfully completed with the specialization in the art of mosaics. At present, using recycled magazines that would otherwise be thrown away to give life to artworks is central to his practice. Working from his home studio as a full-time, professional artist, all his artworks are made up by folded and manipulated paper and transformed into textural geometrical forms, which ultimately developed into sculptural pieces in their own right.
