About the Artist

Frank Fischer is a Jerwood Prize winning artist, who creates abstract pieces reinterpreting works by esteemed painters like Pierre Bonnard and Cecily Brown. Fischer explores the colour spectrums of these pieces through digital means, creating a colour palette which encompasses an area of the work across vertical lines. Fischer's paintings display both the digital and physical areas of his practice, incredibly sleek and controlled in appearance, yet still calling attention to the physicality of the paint by allowing the drips of each line to remain suspended on the edges of the canvas.
